[Note: The program should guide the user through the questions. The user should see a few questions (perhaps 5-10 questions) at a time and not the ones that do not apply to that person. For example, if the user says no to having a spouse, then the user should never see questions that only apply if the user has a spouse. [Note: Immigration rules, as well as required points, change often. The program should be designed so that I may easily edit the criteria that lead to selection of criteria that lead to a notice to the user that they may qualify for a program. For example, the list of countries or ages of participants for a Working Holiday work permit could change, the number of points for selection to an immigration program will frequently change etc.]
